What do you consider to be the instructor's strongest points as a teacher?

Students
He was very clear with his teaching and kept the class stress free.
Professor Bila always wanted his students to do well and I could tell that he cared about his students.
Great teacher
How nice and how much he cared.
His ability to engage the class, through good examples and occasional humorous remarks
Professor Bila’s ability to not only keep students engaged in his course and material but to also make a clear and simple understanding of over arching and complex ideas.
Very passionate about this subject and gave extra info outside of textbook for better understanding of lessons his engagement with the class
His consideration and attitude towards students.
General understanding of my schedule I had during season. Very helpful with finding solutions for missed exams or homework.
He made the classroom a welcoming space where students felt comfortable to ask him questions, which, to me, is important in a professor. He also explained the course material in a way that made it very easy for me to understand, and used examples from the textbook that were easy to find within the text if necessary.
He is funny and relates macroeconomics to real life examples that we would know about. This keep me engaged better.
Understood the material well
He cared about his students and really cared about his whole class passing. He is a very nice professor, and I never felt uncomfortable in his class. He gave good examples for the information which better helped me understand it.
Not only presenting good notes for the students but also a great ability to explain what he is writing on the board for students to fully understand the topics which translated to me scoring high on the tests.
He was very good at explaining things that might've been confusing to the students and providing examples for further explanations.
very fun and good at teching and a good guy
Making possibly confusing material easier to understand
It is obvious that Professor Bila knows the material for economics very well and does a very good job of translating it into simple and easily understandable terms.
He had a lot of enthusiasm his willingness to take time to explain more clearly things he thought were hard topics to understand
Being engaged with the subject he was teaching.
He kept the class engaged for most of the year very well
He knows the content really and is always ready to teach it
I think that his strongest points were to get the class engaged into the material with his humor. I think that he explained the info as best as he could and give him all of the respect for it.
willingness to help and teach homework
The classroom experience was great. Both the notes and examples were thorough and explained at a good pace. I also found the practice tests very helpful as preparation for the real tests.
The clarity of lectures. He was very clear and straightforward with his teaching.
Good explanations of materials

What do you consider to be the instructor's weakest points as a teacher?

Students
I honestly don't have any complaints about Professor Bila. He is the best professor I've had.
Nothing really very straightforward class
None.
N/A
Pulling too much material from the textbook. It makes material clear to understand but when review and reading the text before class and then sitting in the lecture it can be repetitive sometimes.
Class engagement style
n/a Explaining material.
n/a
Not giving enough practice problems before tests.
Sometimes he was hard to understand
I would say one thing that my instructor was not the best at was going into deeper meaning and explaining how to use formulas. There were plenty of examples, but I feel like I needed more than just an example and more deeper teaching.
nothing stood out to me as a possible weak point bad spelling and has a talks a little to fast
n/a
I think Professor Bila could make more use of posting assignments on canvas, this would make it easier to stay on track with homework and student's schedules.
Still couldn't get me to care about econ
Not answering questions clearly.
N/A
I think that at times, it would be a little hard to understand his english, but for most of the time it made sense. I also think that he should do more review sessions before exams, they helped before.
Couldn't explain it very well to the students sometimes long lectures
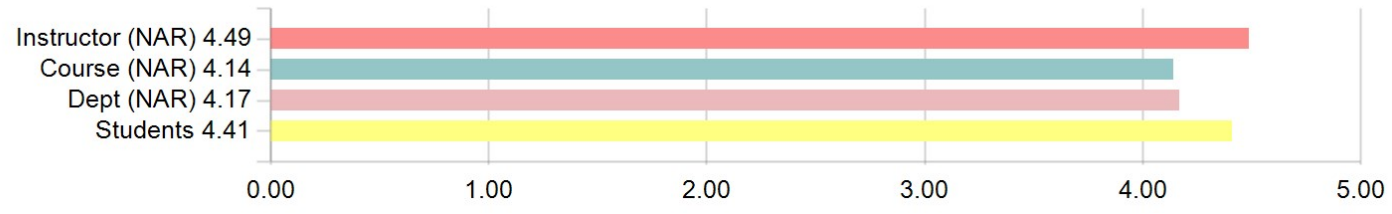
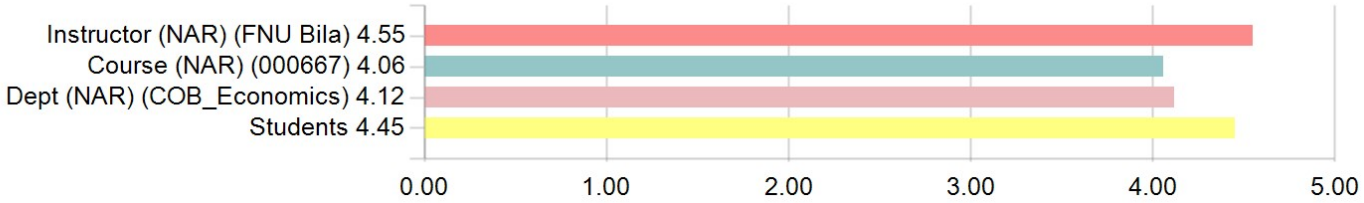
N/A
Honestly, no weak points teaching this class.
Misinterpreted some questions students asked, making certain answers confusing.

Please answer the following about the course:

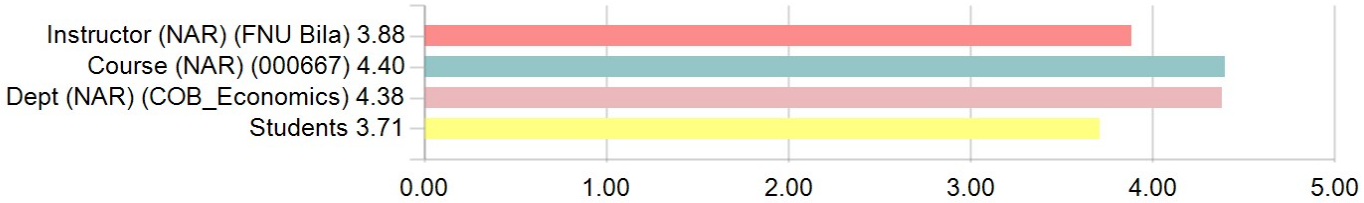
Overall



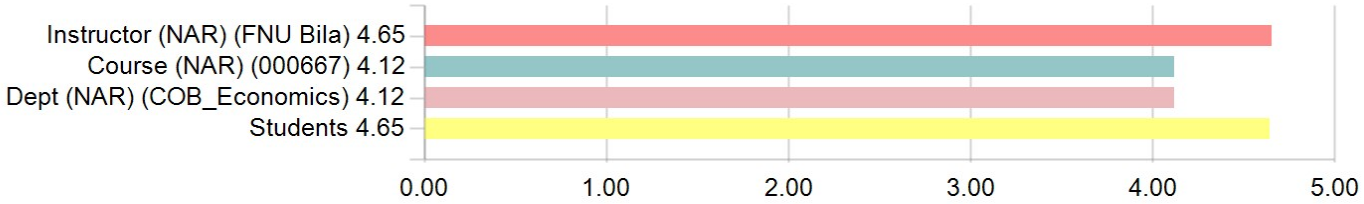
1. The course was intellectually stimulating.



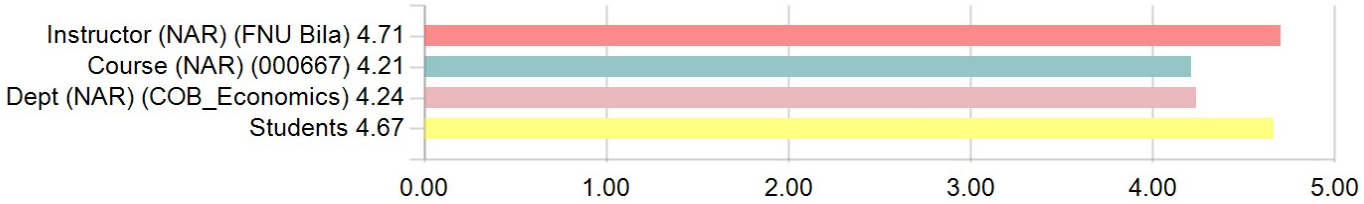
2. The course was challenging.



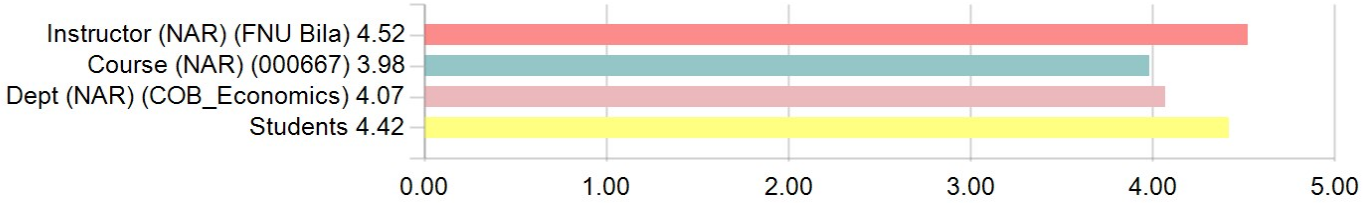
3. The course materials and assignments were valuable aids to learning.



4. The course improved my knowledge of the subject.



5. The course improved my ability to think analytically.



6. The course was organized effectively.

What did you like most about the course?

Students
It was interesting and challenging but not to the point where it was stressful or too time consuming. There were plenty of grades which was helpful to maintain a good grade.
I enjoyed learning about how the monetary system works because it is more complicated than I expected learning about econ
How much I was able to learn.
I liked the real world applications of the content
The professor
How many of the concepts we learned related directly to the real world
the teacher
idk
The way the professor summed up the chapters
I really enjoyed the course material (though that may have been because it was taught so well)
The information and test book were identical which made learning the material easy.
I loved the homework assignments because not only did they help me grasp the information better, but they were also a great boost to my grade. I loved how we had plenty of time during the week to finish these assignments too.
The work that was given was very helpful for further understanding of the content.
economy was fun
The professor
I like how I can apply it to daily life
The teacher was fun to have in the classroom mindtaps
The professor and how he explained what he was writing in more detail
Getting more in depth into the economics topics more than I have in any other class I've taken Honestly, everything. It was nice to learn all of these topics and put it all together to see how the economy works
I enjoyed going to the class and learning everything about our economy, as well as the professor, he was funny and very generous teacher
I liked being in the classroom because the topics were interesting and I felt like I actually learned things.
How the teaching style made it easy to keep on track with the coursework week to week and month to month.
Homework that reflected the topic

What did you dislike most about the course?

Students
I enjoyed this class overall and don't have any criticisms
Nothing.
The depth of some of the concepts, which I was unable to fully grasp and apply at times
Lack of projects
I hate econ.
n/a
Having to buy a textbook.
Nothing against my professor, I just did not like the load of information that came after the first midterm, because it got a lot harder for me.
Sometimes the classes would seem a little boring and long but otherwise, every class was informative.

N/A
Nothing really.
Random attendances

What are your suggestions for improving the course?

Students
None
No suggestions come to mind
Implementing an end of semester project in place of a final exam to allow student to grasp a complex understanding of the material.
More ways to keep students engaged in class such as mini projects
n/a
make the tests all mcq.
n/a
I don't necessarily have one.
Deeper explanations is really all that I would suggest, but other than that I am very lucky to be apart of this class compared to others.
Maybe adding in–class participation every here and then to keep class a little more interesting.
I don't know
n/a
Post homework on canvas
N/A
None
N/A
I guess add more practice problems before exams. also I feel that the homeworks did not prepare me that much for the exams, i dont know if it is the course software, but i would recommend implementing your material every so often for homeworks go in depth more
N/A
Nothing to add.
N/A

What, if anything, do you wish you had done differently as a student in this course?

Students
I could have studied a bit more and gotten a higher grade.
Nothing
Focused as much on the conceptual ideas as I did on the math, in order to have a more complete knowledge of economics
Did not lack on my end with course homework as they were online and textbook quizzes.
Study the graphs and charts more.
no
n/a
Probably study earlier before the exams.
I definitely wish I took this class a lot more seriously than I did. Adjusting to the college workload definitely took a long time, but it was definitely a good experience to get myself to wake up. I also wish I took notes on paper because I feel that I would've better understood it.
get better grades on first test
n/a
N/A
Cared more, I probably would've learned more
Written what he was saying instead of just the notes on the board
Maybe study a little more/do a few more practice problems
None
help students more
N/A
I wish I made more friends in class.
Taken more paper notes for things like graphs and charts, which are harder to type in information
